

CHATTERBOX
Schools and College

presents

Charlie's SUMMER ADVENTURE IN LONDON

Acknowledgement

This didactic material was created by Giorgia Zedda for Chatterbox Schools and College. It is available for free usage and can be downloaded from the school's official website.

Images credits: generated with AI and edited by Giorgia Zedda.

Note: While this book is freely available, please respect the creator's effort by not using it for commercial purposes or distributing it without permission.

July 2024

CHAPTER 1 A Bear Arrives in London

Once upon a time, in a little forest far, far away, lived a friendly bear named Charlie. Charlie was a curious bear who loved exploring new places and making friends. One sunny day, while Charlie was out on his usual morning walk, something stuck in a tree branch caught his attention. A piece of paper fluttered among the leaves... How strange! Maybe the wind dragged it there from who knows where!

As he pulled the piece of paper, he realised it was a poster about a beautiful city called London, which Charlie had never heard of. He had never been to the city! Fascinated by the pictures of the grand Buckingham Palace, the tall Big Ben, and the colorful double-decker buses, Charlie widened his eyes and had an amazing idea: he decided to have a summer adventure in London!

Design the London poster Charlie found on the tree and draw it on the picture.

After packing his backpack with honey sandwiches, a map, and his favorite red scarf, Charlie set off on his journey. He took a ride on a friendly eagle's back, and soon he was soaring over the ocean. As the eagle flew closer to London, Charlie's heart beat faster with excitement.

When they finally arrived, Charlie thanked the eagle and waved goodbye.

The first thing Charlie noticed was how busy London was. People were rushing about, and the streets were filled with the sounds of cars, buses, and cheerful chatter. Charlie felt a bit disorientated at first and tried to avoid bumping into the many people hurrying here and there, but as soon as he got the hang of it, he was ready for his summer adventure!

Charlie arrived in busy London. Draw him in the picture.